BELIZE CITY & NORTHERN BELIZE

BELIZE CITY & NORTHERN BELIZE offers spectacular treasures to discover. Experience the amazing Maya archeological sites, explore the area’s rivers, Maya sites, extensive cave systems, and more. The capital city of Belize City is a bustling city with a rich history and culture. Nearby, the Belize Zoo is a must-see for animal lovers. The Northern region offers stunning natural beauty, from the Maya Ruins in Altun Ha to the tropical forests and rivers of Cayo District. This region is also home to excellent ecotourism opportunities, such as birdwatching and cave exploration.

CAYES & ATOLLS

Over 400 exquisite small islands, locally known as cays, dot the turquoise waters off the length of Belize’s coast. These islands sit outside the magnificent Belize Barrier Reef, which is the second largest reef system in the world. The azure waters offer a truly remarkable experience for the first-time snorkeler or the experienced scuba diver. Caye Caulker, the epitome of the “laid back” island lifestyle, has attractively painted wooden houses interspersed with shops, restaurants, and small hotels. The larger islands in the north support charming towns, while elsewhere on the Barrier Reef, smaller, private islands provide exclusive getaways. The town of San Pedro on Ambergris Caye offers an eclectic choice of accommodation and a wide variety of sophisticated international cuisine in beachside restaurants. Traditional Belizean food is also easy to find at cheerful roadside stands. Top activities include exploring the island on a car or bicycle, going deep-sea fishing, or simply relaxing on a tropical beach.

ECOTOURISM

Whether seeking extreme adventures or a yoga retreat, traveling as a couple, family or even solo, the level of adventure and degree of comfort can be customized. Each region of Belize offers unique opportunities to experience globally acknowledged biodiversity.

MAYA

Belize has hundreds of Maya sites, ranging from small mounds to international archaeological parks. From the ancient city of Lamanai to the majestic Tikal, the Maya left behind a rich legacy of culture and history. Exploring Maya sites in Belize offers a unique opportunity to learn about the ancient civilization and its impact on modern-day culture.

SOUTHERN BELIZE

SOUTHERN BELIZE is home to some of the most pristine natural environments in the world. Attractions in this region include the Lamanai Archaeological Reserve, the Lighthouse Reef Atoll, and the remote southern Maya communities. The Lamanai Archaeological Reserve is one of the largest Maya sites in the world, offering a glimpse into the ancient civilization's way of life. The Lighthouse Reef Atoll is a protected marine park with an array of marine life, including the world-renowned Turneffe Atoll. The southern Maya communities offer a unique cultural experience, with vibrant traditions and rich history.

VISITING FOR THE DAY?

If you are only staying a few hours, you can enjoy the natural beauty of the area. Belize offers a variety of short excursions like snorkeling, scuba diving, and wildlife watching. You can also explore the local markets and taste the unique Belizean cuisine.

MAYA BEACH

One of the top attractions in Belize, Maya Beach is a pristine white-sand beach located in the western region of Ambergris Caye. The beach is surrounded by clear blue waters, making it perfect for swimming, snorkeling, and sunbathing. The beach also offers a variety of activities such as kayaking, paddleboarding, and glass-bottom boat tours, allowing visitors to explore the marine life in the area.
